

Take No Chances Buy Known Quality.

You have no excuse for buying "a cat in the bag" today. Those who take a chance with "something just as good" invariably get "something worse."

Advertising eliminates risk. It has placed business on a high plane. No longer need the buyer beware. Merchants and manufacturers both realize that Square Deal is their most valuable asset. They must not only make customers but must keep them.

Bear this in mind when you read the advertisements in the NEWS. The manufacturer, who advertises continuously and persistently, could not afford to unless his goods were such as to make customers and keep them. He invites you, through his advertising, to test his sincerity, knowing that one trial will make you a permanent customer.

You take no chances in purchasing your products advertised in the NEWS. Each advertisement carries an unwritten guarantee of honest quality and honest price. Read THE NEWS'S advertisements closely and constantly every day and keep in touch with the best to be had from the most reputable dealers in this city.

Seeing the Wind.

One may see the wind, and by means of an implement no more complex than an ordinary handsaw. On any blowy day, the wind, being, say, in the north, hold your saw with its ends pointing one to the east, the other to the west. Then place the saw as if you were about to cut the air upward and let the teeth, which are then, of course on top, tilt over until the flat part of the saw rests at an angle of forty-five degrees with the horizon. You will then "see the wind." Glancing along the teeth of the saw, one sees the wind pouring over them much as water pours over a fall. Harper's Weekly.

FIGHTING IS FIERCE

BATTLE IN MEXICO CITY STILL INDECISIVE—ENORMOUS DAMAGE BEING DONE.

City of Mexico, Feb. 13.—At 5 o'clock this evening it was reported that Gen. Diaz had demanded the surrender of the National Palace. All through the day the rebel batteries of heavy guns were throwing a fierce fire of shrapnel around the Palace. Many of these dropped into the zocalo which fronts the building, and the federal soldiers were compelled to move to cover.

Before dark the fire on both sides was intermittent, but apparently less vigorous from the federals. The government troops were receiving ammunition in small consignments and it was said they were running short.

Today's resumption of the battle began at 8 o'clock, a battery of federal artillery opening fire on the arsenal, but although the bombardment was kept up without cessation for an hour or more, it had no appreciable effect on the rebel defenses.

That Diaz had prepared for the threatened overwhelming movement by the government, which Madero promised would be carried through today, was shown by the fact that he had stationed sharpshooters on the roofs of buildings, had dispatched a force outside the city to the east and had placed his heaviest guns in positions commanding all approaches to his stronghold.

Gen. Huerta, commanding the federals, had promised to rush the fortifications of the rebels, but he elected instead to employ his artillery from the various points of vantage. Only once during the early part of the day did the infantry come into action.

During the heavy shelling of the Palace, Diaz apparently moved some of his forces to the southeast of the city and shortly after 12 o'clock the Palace was made the target of both shells and rifle fire from that district. Coincidentally the rebels succeeded in extending their zone of activity in other directions.

The rebel fire toward the Palace was intended not only to bring about its surrender, but had for its purpose also the clearing of the intervening high buildings of machine guns and riflemen and of silencing the federal battery operating in San Juan Letran street, at a point midway between the arsenal and the Palace.

This shelling wrought havoc among the buildings in that section of the city. The American Club was riddled. The interior of this building on the second and third floors was completely wrecked. Of forty Americans within it at the time, several experienced almost miraculous escapes from death.

Seven shells tore through the walls. The first two crashed through the reading room across the greater length of the front on the second story. Others tore through the walls above the second story on the sides not protected by buildings.

In addition to the shell fire, the interior as well as the exterior of the American Club was perforated in scores of places by bullets from rifles and machine guns.

The shells, which entered the reading room, crashed through the stone window casings, demolished a heavy leather chair and exploded with terrific force. Shrapnel was hurled in all directions, cutting the furniture to ribbons, ripping the floors and walls and puncturing in a score of places the portraits most seriously damaged was that of President Madero.

President McKinley's picture now is set in a circle of holes, while the portrait of President Taft, hanging next, escaped with a single mark.

President-Elect Wilson's features were riddled, while at the other end of the line of portraits balls found lodgment in plenty in the picture of another Democrat, Jefferson.

To the rear of this room is a large billiard hall. There many Americans were gathered, as the manager had forbidden the members to assemble in the front room, when a second series of shells crashed through the wall. These tore a way through the story above.

Some of these shells entered almost on a line with the floor. From the fire which followed the greatest damage resulted. All but one shell exploded. This remains buried in the third wall which it encountered.

Portions of shrapnel shell were hurled through the floor about the billiard rooms among a group of Americans there. Four sleeping rooms on the fourth floor were wrecked, and one the entire wall was torn away.

The wrecking of this building is typical of the damage done many others in all parts of the city. Just around the corner from the American Club, near Porter's Hotel, R. M. Meredith of Troy, N. Y., was injured today. He was struck by shrapnel, suffering a scalp wound.

GREATEST GAS WELL IN ALL OKLAHOMA

Morris, Okla., Feb. 13.—What at this time appears to be one of the greatest gas wells ever struck in Oklahoma was "brought in" at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon on the Hoff property seven miles north of this city, in the Northwest Morris pool. It is conservatively estimated by oil and gas men here to have a capacity of 50,000,000 feet. The roar of the gas as it spouts out of the well can be plainly heard in Morris, seven miles from the well.

According to reports received here Friday night, the force of the gas is so strong that the top of the derrick was blown off when the well was struck, and the derrick is being demolished, splinter by splinter.

It is stated that the face and arms of several of the drilling crew were badly injured in an attempt to recover the drilling tools from the hole, by the gas pressure and flying rocks. All efforts to cap the well have been fruitless.

MEYER CASE IS WITHDRAWN

SENATE GRANTS PERMISSION FOR HOUSE TO WITHDRAW THE CHARGES.

Oklahoma City, Ok., Feb. 13.—The senate, sitting as a court of impeachment, voted unanimously today to permit the House of Representatives to withdraw its articles of impeachment filed against former State Auditor Leo Meyer, whose resignation was accepted yesterday by Gov. Cruce.

The formal action was in obedience to a resolution adopted by the House of Representatives in executive session, which recited that the office had been vacated by Meyer's resignation, and that such was all the successful impeachment of the official could accomplish. The senate yesterday voted that the house request be granted, and the action today was in ratification.

The resignation of Meyer will not alter the case as far as Giles W. Farris is concerned; neither will Farris, whose trial is set before the Senate for Monday next, tender his resignation. Attorneys for Farris said tonight that the opportunity of resigning was offered their client by the house managers, but that Farris declined to avail himself of that method to obviate a hearing.

Attorneys Giddings & Giddings of Oklahoma City and Ben F. Williams of Norman, attorneys for Mr. Farris, authorized the following statement:

"Mr. Farris intends to fight his case to the end. The resignation of any other public official would have no effect upon Mr. Farris. He personally authorizes this statement, and personally made up his mind so to do. The only thing his attorneys fear is that political prejudice may hurt his cause. They do not fear the evidence and upon each and every article of impeachment they are prepared with competent and honest testimony to substantiate his plea of not guilty. Neither he nor his attorneys are desirous of anything but truthful testimony. In his preliminary trials in the criminal courts there has not been the remotest charge that he used any testimony that was not absolutely true. Neither he nor his attorneys ever approached any one who is to try him, nor any witness for anything except the gospel truth. We believe we will be able to show that here is a public official who is honest."

J. C. McClelland, appointed State Auditor yesterday to succeed Meyer, today named C. L. Greer, a lumber merchant of Chickasha, as his assistant in place of Earl Keys, who has been with the department since Meyer took charge.

Record Jumps Expected at Ironwood.

Ironwood, Mich., Feb. 14.—Many famous ski jumpers have arrived in anticipation of the ninth annual championship tournament of the National Ski Association of America, which is to be held here tomorrow and Sunday. A record-breaking meet seems to be assured. This was the statement made by the officials of the local club today after they had checked up the list of entries. Star performers of more than a score of clubs scattered throughout the Northwest will be seen in competition, rivaling the comets in flights through space. The program provides events for both amateurs and professionals.

The slide here is said to be the best in the world. Some enthusiasts of the sport confidently declare that the record jump of Eric the Red will be beaten at the coming tournament. Eric, back in the eleventh century, put on his skis, slid down the highest peak of the Kjolens and, according to tradition, cleared the Atlantic Ocean and landed on the American continent. The man who beats Eric will have to land somewhere between Tierra del Fuego and the South Pole.

Sherman Memorial Exercises.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—Final arrangements were completed today for the memorial services to be held in the Senate tomorrow in honor of the late Vice President Sherman. The exercises will be attended by the President and his cabinet, the justices of the Supreme Court, the members of both houses of congress and many others prominent in official life in the capital.

Tulsa, Ok., Feb. 13.—Four yeggmen early this morning dynamited the safe of the Guaranty State Bank of Keifer at Keifer, Okla., securing about $2,700 and escaping. The vault was completely demolished and the building badly damaged by the explosion, unusually heavy charges being used.

All telephone and public telegraph wire from Keifer to Tulsa were cut by the bandits and but meager reports of the robbery came over an oil wire.

The Philadelphia Public Ledger explains that a little bunch of whiskers on the chin of an ordinary man is called a "goatee" but when the man becomes famous it is an "imperial."

They are now camping on the trail of Dr. Stolper, Miss Kate Barnard's appointee as public defender. It has reached a point where a man who is not charged with something out of the ordinary is not in it a little bit and must be regarded as a mollycoddle.

Patten, one of the speculators who bulled the cotton market a few years ago, thereby bringing millions of dollars to the farmers of the South, has been fined $4,000 for this heinous offense. J. M. WINTERSMITH LOSES HOME

FIRE DESTROYS RESIDENCE THIS MORNING—MOST OF CONTENTS SAVED.

Shortly before 10 o'clock this morning the residence of J. M. Wintersmith at the corner of 19th and Broadway was totally destroyed by fire, which is supposed to have originated from a flue. However, most of the furniture was carried out before the flames had reached the floor.

No one except a negro servant woman was at home at the time the fire was discovered and it had made some headway before the alarm was turned in. The fire boys responded promptly, but it was necessary to reel off the entire length of 1,000 feet of hose in order to reach the fire. It barely reached at that, and because of the great distance the water had to travel through the hose, and the high elevation of the house, the pressure was too weak to make an effective fight. The fire boys and others managed to get practically everything out of the house, except a bath tub and kitchen range. The last thing taken out was a refrigerator, which was shoved out of a window that had been chopped wider with an axe.

Mr. Wintersmith carefully examined the ruins Sunday and thought everything was in safe condition. It is stated that he had insurance on the house to the amount of $1,000, which was probably about half its value.

FINDS ILLEGAL VOTES

WERE CAST

Shawnee, Ok., Feb. 14.—The special grand jury empanelled to investigate the charges of fraud in the recent county seat election, adjourned Wednesday. While not finding evidence of the actual purchase of votes, and not returning any indictments, the grand jury reported irregularities in a number of boxes and the presence of a number of illegal votes. This will probably be the basis of the contest which it is certain will be instituted by Shawnee.

PACKED HOUSE

WITNESSES DRAMA

For the fourth successive evening the Morgan Stock Co. played to a packed house Thursday evening. The plot of the drama was laid in Texas and New York, bringing out some of the fine qualities of the character of a typical Texan, a man of rough exterior, perhaps, but with a heart of gold and all the instincts of a gentleman, loyal to his friends and fearless of any danger. The troupe maintained its high standard throughout.

This evening it will present The Bridge Builder, a story of capital and labor. Saturday afternoon a matinee will be given and Saturday evening the final number of the engagement will be presented.

Two fine pictures at the De Sota this evening. The Awakening is a flying A drama featuring Warren Kerrigan, Louise Lester and other stars. The Wheel of Fate is a Reliance and is a reel of 76 scenes. No shoddy programs at the De Sota at any time.

Bible Was Put Into Rhyme.

Versifications, not only of the Psalms but of the other books of the Bible, were numerous in the sixteenth century. One of the most prolific versifiers was William Hunsley, who, under such fanciful titles as "Seven Sobs of a Sorrowful Soul for Sin," "A Handful of Honey," etc., published a number of rhyming versions of Genesis and Job, which are now worth their weight in gold to the bibliomaniac.

EVERYTHING READY FOR INAUGURATION DAY

Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—The arrangements for the inauguration ceremonies and parade, involving a tremendous amount of detail work, are practically completed, although two weeks and four days will have to pass before President-elect Woodrow Wilson and Vice President-elect Thomas R. Marshall will be introduced into their respective offices and will take their oaths of office. The grandstands at the White House and at several points along Pennsylvania Avenue are completed and so is the staging for the inauguration ceremonies at the capitol; the stanchions for the steel cables with which Pennsylvania avenue will be roped off on the day of the parade are in place and the thousands of electric lights to be used for the inaugural illumination have been strung and placed in their proper positions. Every detail of the inauguration ceremony and of the parade following it has been carefully planned and every precaution has been taken to prevent the occurrence of any awkward hitch.

The coming inauguration will be remarkable in several respects. In the first place the Southern States will have a stronger representation in the parade than for a great many years; another new departure will be the arrangement by which the vice-president will receive more attention than ever before, a military escort being provided for him to accompany him to the capitol and back to the White House; another, equally new precedent will be established by the omission of the inauguration ball which in former years used to constitute the most brilliant feature of the inauguration program.

In accordance with the plans arranged by the committee in charge of the inauguration ceremonies, President Taft, President-elect Wilson and Vice President-elect Marshall on the morning of March 4 will be escorted from the White House to the capitol with military honors. The procession will be headed by Gen. Wood as grand marshal and his staff, followed by the Essex troop of New Jersey, forming the special escort of Governor Wilson; then will come the carriage containing President Taft and Gov. Wilson, next the troop of Culver cadets forming the escort of Gov. Marshall, who will occupy the second carriage, which will be followed by the entire grand veteran division, composed of members of the Grand Army of the Republic, the Union Veteran Legion and the Spanish War Veterans.

The President, the President-elect and the Vice President-elect will enter the senate wing of the capitol by the bronze door. The President and the President-elect will be escorted to the President's room where they shall remain until escorted to the Senate chamber, to be present at the inauguration of the Vice President-elect, to whom the oath of office is to be administered by the President pro tempore of the Senate immediately before the adjournment of that body. Having taken his oath, the Vice President will call the Senate to order and deliver his inaugural address.

The organization of the Senate having been completed, a procession will be formed by the officers of the senate and the House of Representatives, the Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States, the committee of arrangements, the President and the President-elect, the members of the diplomatic corps in accordance with their rank, the Vice President, members and ex-members of the Senate and the House of Representatives, heads of executive departments, governors of States and Territories, the admiral of the navy and his aides, the chief of staff of the army and his aides and such officers of the army and navy who have received the thanks of congress. The procession will move through the rotunda to the platform over the main portico, where the inauguration ceremony will take place.

After all are assembled, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court will administer the oath of office to the President-elect who will then deliver his inaugural address. This will conclude the ceremonies at the capitol and the President and the Vice President, accompanied by their military escorts, will return to the White House, where they will occupy seats upon the re-

FINAL CHAPTER OF A VERY CROOKED TALE

Some days ago the News published a statement from L. Rosenfield regarding John McKinley and his bad shooting, and the next day Mr. McKinley's version of the affair was published. Each man seemed to have a lurking suspicion that the other was a crook. However, all is now changed. In view of the fact that Judge Tom D. McKeown has on a number of occasions been mistaken for W. J. Bryan, the News would suggest that he attend the inauguration of Wilson on the fourth of March. With a little making up in costume he will be in a position to fool hundreds of Washington visitors and will be the center of interest for the time being. He would be in a position to work a big bunch of office seekers, for naturally all would want the aid of the great commoner in securing fat jobs. The judge could make the promises and leave the fulfillment to Billy.

TASTY ENGLISH CAKES

SOME OF THE BEST OF THOSE POPULAR ACROSS THE SEA.

Dainty Confections Take Their Names From Towns in Which They Originated, But the Recipes Speak for Themselves.

In the homes of the old-fashioned country people there are to be found tried and true recipes for tea cakes that have stood the test of hundreds of years in England and have been handed down (and over) to us in America.

Under any name these cakes taste as sweet. It is interesting to note that the names are given from the English town in which there were first popular.

Shrewsbury Cakes.—Slice two pounds of flour and mix well with one pound of powdered sugar, one tablespoonful of ground cinnamon, one ounce of caraway and one nutmeg, grated. Beat and add separately the whites and yolks of four eggs and work in half a pound of butter until the mixture is a thick paste. Roll this out to about one-eighth of an inch thick, then cut in round cakes. Bake on a tin slightly floured for about twenty minutes.

Chelsea Buns.—Take two pounds of light dough and roll out a quarter of an inch thick. Cut four or six ounces of butter into small pieces and lay over the paste; fold it up and then roll out once or twice (as in making puff paste) adding some moist or powdered sugar the last time it is rolled out. Cut into strips half an inch thick and coil each one round into a little cake. Then cover the buns with a cloth and set in a warm place to rise. Bake on a buttered tin for about twenty minutes. Currants, candied peel and spices may be added with advantage.

Bath Buns.—Mix one and a quarter ounces of yeast with one teaspoonful of powdered sugar until they become liquid. Warm three gills of milk until almost tepid. Put one and a half pounds of flour through a sieve, and add a pinch of salt; then lightly rub in half a pound of butter and four ounces of powdered sugar, two ounces of sultanas, and the grated rind of one lemon. Mix the ingredients well, then add five eggs well beaten, and the yeast and milk. Mix the whole to a smooth dough, turn into a basin, cover with a cloth and set in a warm place till the dough rises to twice its size. This will take about one and a half hours. Place it on a floured board and work in almost four ounces of granulated sugar. Then break up the paste into rough heaps and put it on a buttered tin and sprinkle a little granulated sugar over the paste. Leave in a warm place to rise twenty minutes. Then bake in a quick oven for about twenty minutes.

Sally Lunns.—Mix a quarter of a teaspoonful of soft sugar with half an ounce of compressed yeast till liquid. Warm one and a half gills of milk and stir it into the yeast. Beat well an egg and stir it into the milk. Then strain the whole mixture into 12 ounces of sieved flour, to which half a teaspoonful of salt has been added. Turn on a floured board and knead lightly, sprinkling with a little flour to keep from sticking. Butter two deep, round tins and put half the dough in each, cover the tops with a greased paper and leave near the fire to rise for about half an hour, when the cakes should fill the tins. Then bake in a quick oven for about thirty minutes.

Apple and Brown Bread Pudding. One pint brown bread crumbs, two-thirds cup suet fine chopped, one pint apple chopped fine, one-half teaspoon salt, one cup raisins, two tablespoons flour, one egg, one cup milk, one-half teaspoon ginger or other spice. Mix the crumbs and suet and add the apple, salt and raisins, dredged with flour, and the spice. Beat the egg, add the milk and stir into the dry ingredients. Steam two hours in a buttered mold. Serve with hard lemon or other liquid sauce.

Pot Roast With Tomatoes. For the pot roast with tomatoes select a solid cut of meat from the bottom of the round. Brown all over in a teaspoonful of dripping, put in the casserole with two sliced onions, two sliced carrots and the thin part of the can of tomatoes used for the luncheon dish. Add salt and pepper, cover tightly and bake in a slow oven for four hours. Remove the meat to the serving platter, thicken the gravy and serve in a sauceboat.

Dish-Mop Duster. When dusting or cleaning floors there are always some places where even the finest mop will not clean, especially in corners and under some pieces of furniture and under and around radiators, where much dust collects. To clean these places one of the dish mops, to be found at any ten-cent store, works like a charm.

Good Nut Food. Chestnuts on the menu may be substituted for potatoes or rice, and must be cooked in the same way. Peanuts, which are believed to have a greater food value than meat, may be substituted for beans or meat. They may, with propriety, be served with potatoes or rice, but they are considered most ideal when mixed with hominy.

Roll small balls of cheese in pistachio nuts chopped fine and decorate each with the half of an English walnut.—The Ladies Home Journal

Provisions of the Indian Bill

Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—Senator Robert L. Owen, of Oklahoma, has been a busy man this session and the number of items he has been able to attach to the Indian Appropriation bill are evidence that he has not been letting the grass grow under his feet when the needs of his people and constituents are to be championed.

The following are the items which the Oklahoma senator has been able to place on the bill:

One hundred dollar per capita payment, Choctaws and Chickasaws.

Two hundred dollar per capita, Seminoles.

Fifteen dollars per capita, Cherokees.

An item to pay Creeks and Creek Equalization fund up to $800.

An item for Loyal Creeks, $600,000 which afterwards went out on a point of order.

Obtained large additional amount for suppression liquor traffic.

An item authorizing secretary of interior co-operate in settling land suits eastern Oklahoma.

An item providing for exchange of restricted lands under the rules interior department.

$30,000 to buy the Cherokee Orphan asylum and conduct an industrial orphan school for restricted Indians near Tahlequah.

An item extending the time for appraising and sale of Choctaw and Chickasaw coal lands.

An item permitting coal companies to lease additional coal lands within segregated coal area.

An increase of a hundred thousand dollars to provide for attorneys to protect the probating of restricted Indian minors' estates.

An item of $300 for Indian schools of Oklahoma, as an off-set for lands not taxed.

An item of $40,000 to provide for the expense of selling and completing the transfers of unallotted lands within the five tribes.

An item providing ten per cent for the collection of rents on unallotted lands.

An item authorizing the secretary to withhold annuities due Osage minors whose parents would not send them to school.

An item transferring all the cemeteries in eastern Oklahoma and permitting twenty acres additional where necessary to be transferred for cemetery purposes.

An item authorizing the secretary to pay assessments against town lots still owned by the tribes for paving and other municipal purposes.

An item providing twenty thousand dollars to cover restricted allotments in the Wagoner Drainage district, and other smaller items.

An Indian Hunting Shirt.

Among other interesting relics of early days among the Chickasaws Gov. Byrd has a red hunting shirt such as was fashionable many years ago. It was the work of an expert needlewoman and must have required a great deal of time and patience to make the garment. It is elaborately ornamented with bows of blue ribbon and other things admired by the Indians of those days. Gov. Byrd says the wealthy Indians of the early period wore shirts of similar pattern made of fine woolen shawls costing $25 each, and sometimes silk was employed.

As an illustration of how customs are changing, however, he found that none of the full blood young men to whom he showed the shirt a few days ago knew any more about it than the white men, although their grandfathers wore such garments within the memory of Indian now living.

Coining the New Nickels.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 14.—The United States mint in this city has commenced the work of coining the new five-cent pieces and will continue to turn them out at the rate of a million or more a day until the demand is supplied. The new coin bears on one side the facsimile of an American Indian and on the other a buffalo.

Grandma Talks About Babies

Has a large Circle of Listeners Who Profit by Her Wisdom and Experience.

In almost any settled community there's a grandma who knows Mother's Friend. Not only is she reminiscent of her own experience, but it was through her recommendation that so many young, expectant mothers derived the comfort and blessing of this famous remedy.

Mother's Friend is applied externally to the abdomen, stomach and breasts, allays all pain, avoids all nausea, and prevents caking of the breasts.

It is quickly and wonderfully penetrating, permits the muscles to expand without the strain on the ligaments, and prepares the system so thoroughly that the crisis is passed almost without the slightest distress. Thus there need be no such thing as dread or fear.

No better nor more cheering advice can be given the expectant mother than to suggest the use of Mother's Friend. She will take courage from the beginning. The days will be cheerful, the nights restful. Thus the health is preserved, the mind is in repose and the period is an unending one of quiet, joyful anticipation.

You can obtain Mother's Friend of any druggist at $1.00 a bottle. Do not forget nor neglect to be supplied with this greatest remedy ever devised for motherhood. It is unfailing. Write at once to Bradford Regulator Co., 133 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their very interesting and instructive book of advice for expectant mothers.

Maxwell Letter.

The snow, the snow. The past week has been one of continuous snow and sleet. Stock of all kinds has suffered from exposure to the cold freezing weather. Any time in the day cattle and horses could be seen hovering the fences and old houses with one or two inches of snow on their backs. It seemed that any place of refuge from the wind was eagerly sought by the poor animals. When will our people awake to the necessity and economy of protecting their live stock from the cold storms of winter? Besides it being a financial saving; humanity demands that we as a christian people should care for our dumb animals. We are living in an age of progress, the wheels of civilization do not run backward. Not many years hence and you will see plenty of barns throughout this county.

Our school is doing well under the persuasive influence of Miss Hassenfratz assisted by Miss Mabel Adams. Day by day the attendance increases applications to transfer to the Maxwell school district have been so numerous that the trustees have been forced to call a halt, or else employ additional teachers. This speaks well for our community. There never has been a disturbance of any character at church or school in Maxwell since our building was erected. Why not? Because our people will not tolerate it; makes no difference from what source it comes. We give credit to our trustees, Messrs. Summers, Norman and Hooper for the firm stand they have taken in building up our school community.

A number of our citizens have been in Ada the past week attending court, some as jurors, some as witnesses, while others responded to the vs. side of the docket.

There is considerable sickness, none fatal around Maxwell.

By the way we are needing a doctor. Our people will welcome a good man and I assure him no better location can be found in Oklahoma.

MAXWELL.

NEGRO MUST FACE AN OLD CHARGE

Wednesday afternoon Constable W. B. Adair and Policeman John Ralls arrested a negro giving the name of Kelly, who is wanted at Coalgate for the murder of another negro by the name of Green Kansas at Lehigh about ten years ago. The negro's real name is said to be Mules. After the killing he left the country and until a few days ago had lived in Iowa. He ventured back to this section, however, and was working in the oil mill. A conversation a man overheard furnished the clue that led to his arrest. Mr. Adair took up the case and after finding out the facts from Coal county officials put him in jail. Sheriff Phillips came up Thursday and took the prisoner back with him to answer to the old charge.

It has rained and rained, the wind has blown and blown; it has snowed and snowed until the people are getting so worried with such bad weather that they would be glad to see some nice fair weather. You Knox writer come again, you had better wake up or people will think you are from Hackensack. It's too bad that one of your citizens didn't know that George Washington was dead.

The understanding is that the committee will buy the organ for the church this week.

Will Coffee got home at last. There was a very good attendance out at Sunday school and church Sunday.
